COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

This year the Town Clerk will not be allowed to sell dog licenses after June 1. Any who wish to obtain them after that date will be required to contact the Dog Officer Asher Runnels. Dogs six months old Jan. 1, have to be licensed by that time. Any which become six months old during the year have to be licensed when they reach that age.

Hunting and fishing licenses are available at Wheeler's Cigo station.

The Budget Committee held its last meeting of the year Wednesday night. The results are not completely available at this writing. All indications are, there is to be no increase in the tax rate and a good possibility of a slight reduction. We also have been told the school assessment will be somewhat lower.

There is to be no article in the town warrant this year pertaining to erecting signals at West Bethel on the Ferry Road. We have not received the information we need from the railroad. An attorney has been retained in an effort to obtain the necessary information. Funds are being left in the Revenue Sharing Account to finance the signals if a Special Town Meeting is called on the subject.

It was voted should the opportunity arise for the Town to protect the land surrounding the roadside spring that the Chamber should look into it and lend its support.

It was voted that the secretary write up a summary of the meetings of the Chamber from March 1973 through January 1974 for Annual meeting.

Mr. Felt reported that the public skating rink has been a success and many members of the community are enjoying this recreational facility.

"PIRATES OF PENZANCE" TO BE PRESENTED FEB. 1 AT TELSTAR BY BERLIN HIGH PLAYERS

As part of an exchange of drama productions between Berlin High School in Berlin, N. H., and Telstar Regional High School, the Berlin High Players will be bringing their production of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance" to the Telstar Regional High School auditorium on Friday, Feb. 1. The performance will begin at 7:30. This production was given in Berlin on Dec. 21 and 22, 1973, and is under the direction of Hal Haywood and Guy Stever.

This popular operetta centers around the trials and tribulations of Frederick who, as an infant, was mistakenly apprenticed as a pirate rather than a pilot by his hard-of-hearing nurse and who now faces a conflict between his sense of duty to his pirate comrades and his sense of morality as he reaches the end of his apprenticeship.

As a second part of this exchange, Telstar Regional High School will be taking one of its productions to Berlin sometime in the spring. It is hoped that this will be the start of a regular exchange program between North Country high schools, bringing to the participating communities a variety of theatrical productions which would not otherwise be available to them.

HEALTH INFORMATION FORUM —PROGRAM ON DIET AND NUTRITION

The Health Information Forum of the Rumford Community Hospital and Auxiliary will present a program on diet and nutrition on Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 7 p. m., in the lower classroom of the former nurses residence adjacent to the hospital. The public is invited and admission is free.

Organizations in this area who are interested in helping persons to improve their health through proper nutrition will have representatives available to explain their programs and answer questions. These include: Weight Watchers, Inc., Tops, Inc., Nutrition Aide Service of the University of Maine's Cooperative Extension Service, and the Rumford Community Hospital's Nutrition Counseling Service. According to these representatives, people vary in their nutritional and dietary needs and these programs also vary. What might work for one person might not work for another.

Persons attending will have an opportunity to learn more about these various programs and which one might work better for them. This event should also be of special interest to families and friends of persons in need of dietary and nutritional help.

Special attention will be focused on the fact that eating properly does not have to be costly.

This is the second in a series of nine public programs, sponsored by the Health Information Forum, to inform the community about the role of health agencies in the Northern Oxford County Area.

LANDOWNERS MUST FILE STUMPAGE SALES REPORTS WITH DEPT. OF CONSERVATION

The Bureau of Forestry is notifying all owners of forest land who sold or cut stumpage during the calendar year of 1973 that they must send an annual report to the Bureau of Forestry, Department of Conservation by the end of January of this year. This report should include species cut, volume and stumpage price per unit of measure for each transaction and the municipality or township where the stumpage was located. The law is recorded in Section 1 R. S., Title 12, Section 520-B "Reports by forest landowners"; as passed by the 105th Legislature, Special Session 1972.

Robert C. Umberger, Forest Tax Specialist, is asking all logging contractors and operators to help by informing landowners from whom they buy stumpage that a report is to be sent in. A supply of report forms is available to any logging contractor for distribution to landowners who sell or operate timber stumpage.

Each town office has a supply of these forms. For extra forms and answers to any questions, write to Robert Umberger, Bureau of Forestry, Department of Conservation, State Office Building, Augusta, Maine 04330.

MANY TAXPAYERS MAY MISS EARLY REFUNDS

Many Maine taxpayers will not be able to receive early refunds this year unless they receive their W-2 Forms from their employers soon. IRS District Director, Whitney L. Wheeler, has reminded employers that next Thursday, Jan. 31, is the last day to have completed W-2 Forms in the hands of their employees.

"W-2 Forms for those employees who left the job during the year should have been furnished to the employee not later than 30 days after the last pay check," Mr. Wheeler reminded. "Those W-2's which are undeliverable should be sent to the IRS with the employer's Form 941 or 941E for the second quarter of 1974," he said.

IRS Publication 15, "Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide," available free from IRS offices, contains additional information on the proper handling of W-2 Forms.

I've been getting the utmost pleasure the past month from an early Christmas gift received mid-December—a Christmas amaryllis bulb. From a half inch shoot just starting to emerge it has developed into a twenty-two inch flower stalk topped by four bright red blooms each measuring eight and one-half to nine inches across—the leaves are about six inches high and a second flower bud eight inches tall—a fascinating thing to watch-growth averaging an inch a day.

HEAD START SERVES 40 FAMILIES IN COUNTY

The largest program operated by the Oxford County Economic Opportunity Council is Head Start. Head Start involves 60 Oxford County families, 12 full time staff, and many volunteers from the communities. The program has representatives from the following Oxford County towns: Bethel, Bryant Pond, Locke Mills, Rumford, Harrison, Hebron, Norway, Oxford, South Paris, Waterford, West Paris, Brownfield, East Seonham, Fryeburg, Hiram and Lovell.

This year marked the eighth year of operation for Oxford County Head Start, and since its initiation the program's objectives have increased in magnitude. Many people believe that Head Start is an Education Program for pre-school children. It is not! Head Start is an Education Program, Health Program, Social Service Program and Parent Involvement Program which involves entire communities.

During the past few months, some of Head Start's greatest achievements were to complete initial vision, hearing and growth screening tests of all 60 Head Start children. In addition to that 80% of the children have had complete physical exams by local physicians (including TB testing, Hemoglobin Test, Urinalysis, Examination of heart, to mention a few). By the end of January all 60 exams will be complete. Another important factor of the program is the follow-up diagnosis and treatment by specialists of any children found to have physical deficiencies. An immunization program is now underway in cooperation with Head Start and local clinics; every child will be up-to-date with his immunizations by June. Dental check-ups and follow-ups have begun also.

All Head Start programs are now required by Federal law to serve at least 10% handicapped children. Included in the enrollment of 60 pre-school children, Oxford County Head Start has seven handicapped children, two of whom are emotionally disturbed. In order to meet the needs of these handicapped children, the entire staff had an extensive 8-week course from the University of Maine at Farmington, "Educating Exceptional Children". A total of 24 hours during these eight weeks were devoted to this training.

A HUMANE INTEREST STORY—Part II

by Walt Cherry

Waterford residents have made it clear they do not want the youth rehabilitation center, Elan II, in their community. They have been told as clearly that it will remain. Their objections were not well founded and demonstrated a remarkable lack of insight into the nature of the operation. They have found an ally in a nearby weekly journal which persists in publishing misleading, sensational, and uninformed articles.

Somehow, one part of the therapy known as "primal scream" came to their attention, and even though there isn't a private dwelling within hearing distance of Elan II, they reacted from the directorship, the construction of soundproof rooms. Uninformed and misled as they are, they must think that "primal scream" is a session wherein all participants start screaming and walling as apes all at once. If they bothered to inquire, they would have found that the technique is participated in by individuals who, in ever increasing volume, keep repeating a thought such as "I love you, Dad". To a father object—usually, a member of the cadre. The idea is to express what the enrollee was not able to realize or express before. For some, it is a highly effective therapeutic device. It is a benign substitute for some of the ways in which "normal people" vent love, hate, or resentment in the form of rape, murder, or assault. Chances are, if someone in Waterford were beating his wife, the neighbors would choose to "mind their own business".

It is clear that Elan presents no threat to the peace of Waterford residents, and equally clear that the objectors believe that Satan came to town with Elan II. If they believe in the spirit of evil, surely they should have known that he was already there for he thrives where compassion is absent and where compliance in ignorance and fear

persist. If the people of Waterford had cared for anything more than keeping intact their insulated existence, they would have found out for themselves just what the goals and program of the center are. They would have met some of the young cadre and enrollees, and found them to be courteous, gentle to a point of timidity, and themselves, very frightened. They would have seen and felt the dedication of the directors and enrollees to the solution of the many and varied emotional problems.

These youngsters were enrolled in Elan II nearly destroyed by their former environments which had convinced them that success was to be equated with power, self-assurance, nvarice, and material possessions. They felt inadequate in the shadow of these criteria but they stifled their screams and took out their frustrations on themselves.

They came to a quiet, pastoral setting overlooking beautiful mountains and valleys, hoping to find friendship at best, and indifference at worst. Instead, they found hostility and unfounded fear in people who knew nothing, and wouldn't take the trouble to learn anything, about emotional insufficiency.

It is not too late to make an about face. Instead of trying to find nagging flaws in the physical facilities to harass the progress of therapy, the Waterford objectors might want to reconsider, reconvene the 60 participants of the last meeting, and discuss ways in which they can help the enrollees of Elan II.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As Register of Deeds for the Eastern District of Oxford County I would like to defend my department and set the record straight.

It is a terrific shock to read in the paper that your department has gone over the allotment set for it by the County Commissioners when in fact you had over five hundred dollars surplus that was turned back to the county.

With the tremendous rise in the cost of everything this past year I would not have been ashamed if I had needed to use additional money. It certainly was very understandable for those departments that found themselves in that situation.

This is like a slap in the face from my commissioners after keeping my budget in line plus turning in revenue to the county of nearly thirty-six thousand dollars and fourteen thousand to the state.

Thank you for letting me set the record straight.

January 16, 1974

To the Editor of the Bethel Citizen

The hypothetical dilemma posed by Mr. Cherry in your issue of January 10, 1974 about the actual removal of the President if the Senate by a two-thirds vote affirmed his impeachment by the House of Representatives, is largely resolved by the very first sentence in his interesting article. He begins by stating that "Congress took the first step toward removal of the President when it approved Congressman Ford for the Vice-Presidency". The vote in the Senate for impeachment would obviously create a vacancy in the office of President; and the Vice President would be elevated to the Presidency, as he is presently, when the President dies.

In the balance of the article Mr. Cherry does raise an interesting question. He does point out that since the Constitution places all power to execute the Will of Congress in the hands of the President, the refusal of the President to be his own executioner may well create a sticky situation. The suggestion that the President may not abide by the Congressional decision to remove him is an interesting speculation, but hardly likely to materialize. This President does not possess the charisma or overwhelming popular support that would induce the military and para military forces of the country to sustain him in power against the expressed mandate of the people's representatives in Congress. Thus Mr. Cherry's article does succeed in identifying a weakness in the Constitutional impeachment process of which a future Napoleon or Hitler might well take advantage. The procedure for the actual removal of the President following his impeachment should be clarified. Since there can be no vacuum in the Presidency, the new President must be sworn in immediately, as he was when Presidents F. D. Roosevelt and John Kennedy died in office to name but two who died within the memory of many people presently alive. The gnawing question is what to do about a President who resists removal after a Constitutionally conducted impeachment trial in Congress. The method by which such a President will be removed should be more clearly set forth either by Congressional enactment of a statute or an amendment to the Constitution if that route is deemed to be preferable.

In conclusion may I state that the above discussion is purely academic. If Mr. Nixon's impeachment were voted, he could remain in office only by a resort to force. His most ardent supporters have not even hinted at resistance if he is legally removed. The suppositious assumption that the lawful removal of the President will create incidents of resistance is too remote to warrant even a faint ripple of concern. If Mr. Nixon is voted out he will disappear from the public arena sadly and quietly.

LEGION COUNTY COUNCIL MEETS AT LOCKE MILLS

Jackson-Silver Post and Unit entertained the Oxford County Council Jan. 15 at Locke Mills with a good attendance in spite of the chilly night. Seven of the 11 towns were represented.

President Dorothy Bailey of Norway conducted the ladies' meeting and spoke on the American Legion's Legislative goals, urging each one to do their part in helping to return Memorial Day to its rightful place, May 30. The welcomed guests were Mrs. Jim McMahon, Mrs. Bob Rich and Mrs. Ann Patten.

At 7 p. m. Feb. 2 there will be a District Meeting in Farmington, followed by a dance.

The Mid-Winter Conference to be held in Rumford, Feb. 16 and 17, starting at 10 a. m. was announced by Commander Maurice Bouchard of Bethel. His guests were NEC James McMahon of Auburn, and Department Vice Commander Bob Rich of Lisbon Falls.

Rumford will also host the Feb. 19 County meeting, when special guest and speaker will be Department Children and Youth Chairman Mrs. Wilma Johnson of Thordike.

The usual delicious refreshments were served by President Sylvia Dunham, Grace Smith, Vera Cross, and Cathryn Lovejoy.

REBEL HOOPSTERS LOSE 59-36 AT MT. ABRAM TUESDAY

Mt. Abram recorded its second victory over the visiting Telstar basketballers Tuesday, sprinting in the third quarter and then holding off a counter-assault by the Bethel cluster for a 59-36 decision. Sophomores Mike Wing and Mike Parks were instrumental for Mt. Abram, which came out of a 34-34 tie at the half to shoot 20 of the next 27 points.

Pete Blako was the best Telstar bet as the visitors made the last three minutes a nip and tuck proposition.

Newly revised and with a wider scope, the Prepared Childbirth Organization again offers its course to expectant parents in the area. The organization, consisting of three registered nurses and three lay mothers experienced in prepared childbirth, has had the guidance and support of Dr. John Makin and the maternity floor nurses at Rumford Community Hospital, in the preparation of these classes.

The course will now consist of a series of five weekly classes dealing with the following subjects: Prenatal care, fetal development, nutrition, body conditioning exercises; stages of labor and delivery, relaxation exercises, breathing patterns, hospital procedures; Infant care, physical and emotional adjustments to motherhood.

The ideal time to attend these classes is during the last three months of pregnancy, although an invitation is extended to all expectant women and their husbands. The first class of this series will be held at 7:00 p.m., on January 30 at the Greater Rumford Community Center.

What are little girls made of—Sugar and spice and everything nice. I wonder who was the author of that statement. Probably a mother of two boys who longed for pink tights, black patent leather shoes, baby dolls, and ruffled bedspreads. But, I happen to know that little girls are also made of torn jeans, hair pulling, occasional pinching and scratching, bubble gum in long hair, and eye shadow and liquid make-up all over two little faces! The best time to see the sugar and spice, and everything nice side is when two tired little girls are sound asleep in a sea of teddy bears and dolls. Right now, my coffee table is being used as some sort of cooking center. There is a miniature coffee and tea service, milk and fruit punch amid the floral arrangement and ash trays. Whatever spills is quickly absorbed with a paper towel and a "don't worry mom, it won't hurt the table" is added. But, as soon as they decide to use the water from the aquarium that's a different story—anyway, the fish need it more than they do. It's not unusual to go into one of the girls bedrooms and find her hammering on a piece of wood, or sawing on one of the bed legs with the toy saw from her own tool box.

Also in the toy box you'll find such things as a dump truck, baseball glove, battery operated chain saw, and a set of cowboys and Indians. Little girls not only can be sugar and spice and everything nice, but also snakes and snails and puppy dog tails! I can safely say, watching the girls now racing around the room with doll carriages, that life with two "sweet" little girls can be just as hair-raising as life with two "mischievous boys".

Friday morning up here on the hill was a chilly 11° below zero. However, John McDougal called to say that down in the valley by Chapman Brook it was an even chillier 30° below! Brri Mr. McDougal and Lester Butters were unable to coax their cars in a running mood all day!

Patty Murphy and Judy Wheeler, West Bethel, spent Sunday with Mary Chapman.

Bruce Smith and Ed Brownell, Oxford, along with two friends visited with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith on Sunday.

Wilfred Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson, appeared with other classmates on High School Quiz on Channel 8 Saturday evening. Wilfred was part of the cheering section.

Vince Chapman spent Saturday and Saturday night with Sarah and Ali on Chapman.

Scott Mason had the misfortune to get hurt while working with his father one day last week. He required a few stitches on his knee, but is coming along just fine.

Terry Mason and Mary Chapman spent a good part of the week end horseback riding.

Dave and Sally Olson, Bethel, were guests of Dick and Sue Angvine on Saturday evening. They all enjoyed snowmobiling, none too soon, as the weather on Tuesday certainly didn't help the trail!

MID-WINTER CAR CHECK

It's not a bad idea to make a mid-winter check of your automobile's vital signs.

Road service calls to the ALA Auto and Travel Club's twelve New England offices indicate that many motorists are not aware of all the basics to insure smooth car operation during the toughest driving conditions.

There are several simple checks that you can make yourself, many of them visual.

Your auto's cooling system is one of the most crucial; regardless of the temperature, the engine can still overheat. Check the fan belts and hoses for cracks and fraying. Examine the radiator surface for rust and build-up. Water bubbles mixed with oil on the dipstick is a sure sign of a leak between the oil cooler and the radiator.

The cooling system should be drained and flushed yearly. If you want to do it yourself, be sure to open the petcocks in both the radiator and the block.

With the long lines at gas stations these days, many motorists just want to fill up and get out as soon as possible. This is causing them (or the attendant) to neglect checking the oil. The best time to change the oil is in the fall! But do it now if you haven't already.

Not everyone is aware of the importance of checking the fuel pump for maximum vacuum and pressure performance. If your engine tends to skip, attention here is probably needed.

Equally as important is a dipstick test of the level of your transmission fluid.

Just as easy to check is your air purification filter. Modern paper air cleaners are inexpensive and easy to change.

Basic maintenance also requires having the brakes and wheel alignment checked. This is critical for safety on icy roads; and should be done by a professional mechanic.

It is not true that decreasing tire pressure makes for better traction. Quite the opposite, as low pressure actually causes more wear and tear.

Studded tires provide the best traction on snow and ice. However, there are a few simple, yet important hints for their usage. Always have studs installed by a dealer or serviceman. You should note

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN

MET JANUARY 17

The general meeting of the United Methodist Women met at the home of Betty Perkins, January 17, at 1:30 p. m.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Sarah Stevens. Fourteen members were present.

An evaluation report was made out with the help of all members.

As the group was unable to have installation the first of the month, it will be held at the next meeting, Feb. 7, at the home of Mrs. Reto Dunn. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock.

Annie Gordon explained the program on Prayer and Self Denial which followed the meeting. All the members present participated by giving scripture readings and prayers. A lunch of coffee and cookies followed with quiet conversation on the meaning of prayer and self-denial.

that use of studded tires is prohibited in the following states: Hawaii, Louisiana, Mississippi and Ontario, Canada.

Periodic checks of all lights is a good habit. Keeping the headlights and tail lights free from accumulated salt and mud is always advisable.

Don't hesitate to get new blades if your windshield wipers streak or don't make contact all across the windshield. The middle of a snow storm is no time to find this out.

By following these suggestions and making it a practice to keep your car in top condition, you will beat old man winter at his own game and make driving easier and safer.

TELSTAR ON SHORT END AT LIVERMORE FRIDAY

Sharp 16 out of 18 marksmanship at the free throw line gave host Livermore Falls a 74-66 Mountain Valley Conference basketball triumph over Telstar Friday night. The Rebels had a slim 30-29 edge from the floor and went six out of 12 at the line. The clubs were locked 54-54 after three periods.

Nor Girardin (24), Rick Jacques (14), Couture (12) and Kennedy (10) gave the Rebels balance in the scoring column and Telstar countered with Pete Blake (22), Vern Davis (13) and Ray Juhl (11).

Livermore Falls took a slim 47-45 verdict in the Jayvee prelim to sweep the bill.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

There has always been a sense of satisfaction to me in woodland wandering. I have gone several times the past week. I start out some times to follow an established trail but find that it is more rewarding when on snowshoes to strike off on my own, even though it may entail acceptance of fatigue.

Most of my snowshoeing so far has been up hill going through the forests and to the uplands of Noyes Mountain. The uphill travel is slow and hard but home-coming is usually easy.

One day, that giant among the black feathered birds, the Northern Raven, greeted me. He has been in that same section since early fall for I have seen him wheel in the sky and hoarsely call his "Kruuck! Ky-r-ruck!" His flying seems slow and easy compared to the crow who works hard at the job. But I wonder why he is there and what does he eat? Anyway he greeted me as he lazily sailed reminding me of a graceful glider. Then he turned on his power and became a stunt plane.

On this jaunt I had made my way this side of a recent cutting of trees. What a mess it looked to be! I wanted no part of that. I did stop to look at an old mature pine standing by itself in the midst of the debris beneath. It was dying back from its crown so was left standing alone reaching for the sky. To the left and still climbing I continued making trails where I could.

Now there appeared a whine and wintry cry in the trees high up. However it was warm here and continued to be until I reached a high open field. Over head streamed the clouds in the great open sky dimming and obscuring the sun, sometimes with an opalescence and bronze glow.

The field lay open to the onslaught of the wind which picked up the snow and hurled it at my back. My time spent here was just long enough to cross the next wood lot then on to the brook.

The trees were green and pleasant to the eyes uttering a message of cheer. The silence was broken by the lapping of water under its garment of brightness. I watched for awhile as it made its bubbles and dropped over the rocks.

Again I crossed the field this time facing the wind but it didn't take long. Then I was on a down hill grade.

Where the juniper bushes grew, just at the edge of the field, I felt as if I was walking on deep soft padding, springy and light.

Ahead of me was a beaten path made by the rabbits leading well down the hill.

Dead birches were lined up and down with toad-stools wearing dainty little white caps, even to the winding snake-like down from the frill around the edges.

I heard the train whistle melancholy and slow drifting across the hills and into the valley below.

The trees were tossing their high branches with an incessant sigh.

The grasses near home trembled lifelessly, deep brown against the white.

It had been a refreshing journey but I was glad to be back again.

The couple was attended by Calvin Lutz, Dearborn, Mich., friend of the groom, and Judy Bateson, sister of the bride of Phoenix, Ariz.

Others attending the private ceremony were Mrs. Billy Barnett and Billy Jr., sister and nephew of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bateson, brother and sister-in-law of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merryman, also Mrs. Calvin Lutz, friend of the couple, Dearborn, Mich.

The bride wore a full length dress of white with silver braid and silver embroidery at the bodice and trim. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses mixed with white carnations and holly.

The bride's attendant, her only sister, wore white pink sweetheart roses mixed with white mini carnations and blue straw flowers.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a navy blue print with navy accessories. For the traditional something old the groom wore jewelry belonging to both his deceased grandfathers, Fred Emerson and Daniel Campbell.

The reception was held immediately after at the home of the bride's parents with about 40 guests served by a local caterer. The couple received best wishes phone calls from the groom's two brothers, Floyd and Frankie, in Massachusetts who were unable to attend, his sister and brother-in-law in California, the Anthony Pooles, and his parents in Andover, Maine.

HEAD START NEWS

The past two weeks have been busy. The staff did a thorough cleaning of the room, rearranging and scrubbing.

Our parent meeting was held last Tuesday night. We elected our Center Committee: Pat Vail, chairman; Mary Jane Dubey, vice chairman; Marguerite Tuttle, secretary; Sylvia Gould, treasurer.

Besides our usual activities in the classroom, we walked to the post office for a visit. Bud Paine our postmaster, gave us a nice tour behind the windows and Mr. Doon found us some pencils and mail of our own. We want to say thank you to them for letting us visit.

We also have something old but new to us. The Head Start program bought a film projector and film strip the first year. These have been used by all four centers. We have them now and the children love them.

Our doctor appointments are completed. Everyone has had complete physicals and tests. We are now starting on the dental work. We have all had our examination and cleaning and will start on fillings and such next week.

There are a few things we still need: a record holder, flying saucers, doll house furniture, dress-up dresses, and coat hangers.

If you have things you think we might use give us a call: Judi Bean, 824-2593; Martha Bates, 824-2933; Sandra Savage, 129-21, Bryant Pond.

Volunteers have been: Joyce Hoyt, Jean Pease, Norman Skene. The Head Start Mothers Club will be having a Food Sale at the IGA Valentine's Day.
